

TRINIDAD MUSEUM SOCIETY QUARTERLY NEWSLETTER
FOR MAY, JUNE, & JULY 1986

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE: From newly elected President, Ray Davis

The third time is a charm, even the weather cooperated for our Historic Day. The attendance at all features was near capacity. It is hard to say which commanded the most interest. It was a toss-up between the Lighthouse, Tsurai exhibit, Catholic Church, Marine Lab and our new Museum Center. And it was hard to find fault with the program in the Town Hall. There were Indian maidens in authentic dress and Charles Morton, a Tsurai descendant, at the ribbon cutting ceremony as well as former and current Trinidad Mayors for the dedication of the trail around the Head. (Did you make the hike?) And the two choral groups were in top form.

The excellence of the exhibits at the school should be stressed because they were presented in museum style, that is, there was nothing to sell, only to enjoy, including Katie Boyle's fine photo collection of the Trinidad area. The Town Hall "eats" and exhibits were busy, too. Our treasurer, Jim Fassio, was pleased to report that he was able to bank $1,550 as a result of memberships and anonymous gifts. These were a result of the day and mailed-in memberships.

I'd like to personally thank the many people and organizations that donated time and energy to the Historic Day and donated both time and materials to the Museum Center. If you haven't seen the building, it is located just across the street from the Eatery. A special thanks to Board members, Katie Boyle, Axel Lindgren, Charles Fleschner, Bill Marshall, and Kamila Huff, for making so many of the necessary arrangements for our third anniversary Historic Day.

MUSEUM CENTER UPDATE

Over 150 people visited the Museum Center on Historic Day, many of them donating to the Center's Building Fund. The Center, when completed, will have an area for small group meetings, an area for permanent and rotating displays, and an area to store Museum Society materials and acquisitions. The Center will be our headquarters while we plan and dream for a museum for Trinidad. We look forward to using the Center to refer you to all of the history and natural history possibilities that are found in the Trinidad area. If you would like to help with the Museum Center, contact Jim Fassio at 677-0101 or Bruce Pettit at 677-0213. We can use any and all talent, time, and donations!
